

“Earth Day” at the Salisbury Zoo

Date: Saturday, April 21, 2012

Time: 10 AM to 4 PM

Description: Earth Day is a day to celebrate environmental progress. This year the Zoo will be highlighting the Burrowing Owl and its importance to its ecosystem. Activities include games, music, food, giveaways and special exhibitors (including a Coast Kids booth).

Number of spaces available: No limit, this event is open to the public. The event is free. No sign up necessary.

Directions: From Rt. 50 West: Take Rt. 50 into Salisbury. Make a Right onto Rt. 13 South. Take the very next left on to East Main Street, then take the next right on to Snow Hill Road. Take the next left on to South Park Drive. The zoo is on the left.